Please save the date for the U.S.-Polish-German Seminar: "A Trilateral Perspective on Russia"
Tuesday December 14, 2010, 9:00 AM – 1:15 PM
CSIS 1800 K St. NW, Washington, DC 20006, B1 Conference Room
Please join us for a discussion with government officials and Russia experts from the United States, Poland, and Germany as they reflect on the successes and the challenges in their countries' engagements with Russia. Given the U.S.-Russian Reset policy, Germany's strategic partnership with Russia, and recent Polish-Russian rapprochement, it is a timely moment for the United States and our European colleagues to take stock of improved relations with Russia and to build a transatlantic strategy for continued and enhanced cooperation.
This event is co-hosted by the Polish Institute of International Affairs (PISM) and the Bertelsmann Foundation.
A complete agenda and details will be forthcoming. If you would like to RSVP in advance please contact the CSIS Europe Program at europeprogram@csis.org.
