Main character Zosia is turning 40 on New Year's Eve of 1999 and is finding herself summarizing last twenty years of her life. She is a happy, fulfilled woman with the loving partner Kuba and daughter from the first mariage. Still, something is lacking. She wishes she was younger and met Kuba earlier so she could have enjoyed being with him sooner. If only she could go back in time... Miraculously her wish comes true and she goes back a dozen or so years in time. She's got a chance to accelerate her happiness but also needs to face absurds of Communist Poland again.
