The Weider Black Elliptical features a power incline that automatically adjusts its stride. It has 16 preset workouts plus two user memory workouts. It sells for as low as $999 online.

Elliptical Hits: What You Get with the Weider Black Elliptical Trainer

•Adjustable stride -- The stride is 18" when flat. It automatically becomes shorter as the incline is increased.

•Comfortable pedals -- The pedals are oversized to let exercisers find the best foot placement. The pedal cushioning also helps provide comfort and a low-impact impact.

•Program variety -- The console includes 16 personal trainer workouts and can save two user programs. There are 16 digital resistance levels.

•Heart rate monitor -- A dual-grip heart rate monitor helps people exercise at just the right pace to maximize training time.

•Fan -- An integrated workout fan helps trainees keep cool.

•High capacity -- The machine can support up to 350 pounds.
Elliptical Misses

Used it couple times...so it is like brand new. $500 or best offer.

Zofia, Hopewell
Tel.: 609-309-9074

www.spojnik.com